

JOEY YAP'S
HOUSE FLYING STARS REFERENCE CHARTS
PERIOD 6 - PERIOD 9

Your Home Has An Energy Blueprint

Every property carries a unique pattern shaped by time, direction and space. Flying Stars helps you reveal that pattern, turning an ordinary floor plan into a meaningful map of the energies influencing the way you live, work and grow.

You do not need to understand everything at once. Begin with the right foundations, follow the sequence, and allow the picture of your home to unfold one layer at a time.

1. Identify Your Property's Flying Star Chart

A. Determine the Property's Facing Direction

Use a reliable compass to establish the property's facing direction from the appropriate facing side. The facing direction, expressed as a compass degree and one of the 24 Mountains, is the first input needed to identify the correct Flying Star chart.

Key Question Where did the architect design the house to face?

80% Rule:

> Most houses face the main road or primary facade.

Exception:

> - Houses with doors to the side (e.g., garage) but main orientation toward a view (e.g., golf course).
> - High-rise apartments: Refer to supplemental resources for nuances.

B. Confirm the Property Period and Select the Chart

Use the Facing Direction and Property Period to Choose the Correct Flying Star Chart.

Next, confirm the property's period using the relevant occupation, or move-in information. Combine the period with the facing direction to select the property's Flying Star Natal Chart. This establishes where the nine stars are located across the property's nine sectors.

Two Critical Details:

Move-In Year	Determines the Period of your property (e.g., 2006 = Period 8: 2025 = Period 9).

Facing Direction	Use a compass or the 24 Mountains Template to pinpoint exact degrees (e.g., North 1 , Southwest 2).

Once you have your house's facing direction and period, you will be able to identify the right flying star chart. For example, if your property's a period 9 property, facing W1, this would be the chart for it.

3. Map the Combined Personal Sectors and Flying Stars onto the Floor Plan

Prepare the Floor Plan

Your House Layout Plan (Hand-drawn Is Fine)

Prepare a clear floor plan showing the property's perimeter and internal walls, then mark the centre. This provides the physical reference for positioning the combined Personal Life Gua sectors and Flying Stars.
