INTRODUCTION

Feng Shui (Chinese, from Feng 風 'wind' and Shui 水 'water.') is a Chinese Metaphysics system used to study and benefit from the natural energies (Qi 氣) of the living world around us. It is deeply rooted in the culture of the Chinese and Asian countries and forms a historic pillar since the time of the First Emperor in Imperial China.

Classical Feng Shui is a specialized body of knowledge in Chinese Metaphysics that studies the natural energies of the environment, called Qi. This is accomplished through the assessment of the correct placement of doors and the appropriate location of important areas of the house, such as the kitchen and bedroom, based on the natural external environment. Unlike the common misconception, it is certainly not about the placement of objects or decorative items such as crystals, resin dragons and toads.

Grounded in the notion of natural energy flow, this art has been used since centuries ago to bring about positive prospects to life's various key aspects such as wealth, health and career. Despite the advent of modernization, it is in fact still very much practical and prevalent in the current era, where property and land selection are concerned. The complexity of the art inculcates the application of various formulas and theorems to determine the manifestation of the positive Qi and potentials.

WHAT ARE FLYING STARS?

The Flying Stars, also known, as the Xuan Kong Flying Stars is a Classical Feng Shui system that calculates, measures and charts the flow of energy (Qi) of a building. It shares similar principles of other Feng Shui schools and systems of Yin and Yang, the Lo Shu numbers, the 24 Mountains and the five elements. However, to say it is the same as other classical schools is inaccurate since each are focused on different aspects and area of application.

The unique movements and changes to the positions of the above variables are charted, and therefore cause different effects to the inhabitants of the said building. The Flying Stars system takes into account the timing factor and is essentially a map of the current energies that change, influence and affect the building and it's inhabitants. These variables are sometimes referred to as Stars, and therefore the name Flying Stars. The analysis of these effects includes energies that influence wealth, health, luck and relationships.

Most beginners start out practicing Feng Shui and Chinese Metaphysics using Flying Stars. It is the easiest to learn, and most direct system that any individual can immediately apply. However, the advanced practice and usage of the Flying Stars system can be very complicated and difficult to master at the highest proficiency level. In a way, it is like the game of golf. It's very easy to pick up, but difficult to master.

SOME FUNDAMENTALS

In the application of Classical Feng Shui, direction and location are the two most crucial aspects to be explored in relation to a property or house. In this regard, the 9 Palaces method is used. In a nutshell, this technique divides the interior of the property into 9 grids to determine the specific areas where Qi of different qualities accumulates.

The demarcation of the 9 Palaces is then substantiated by the application of the Flying Stars. Under this principle, each Palace is influenced by the different stars in the outer space, which manifest different energies to affect the specific areas of the property. In relation to this, the use of specific areas of the property would bring about different implications to the occupants of the concerned property.

HOW TO PRACTICE IN CLASSICAL FENG SHUI

In order to tap into the beneficial Qi of the year and the kind of Qi that will influence your home in 2016, it is important to be able to identify the various directional sectors of your home and also determine which sector your Main Door is located. This knowledge is particularly important for those who wish to make use of the information contained in the Eight Houses for 2016 chapter, which is based on the directional sector in where your house or office's Main Door is found.

Step 1

The first step is to divide your house into Nine Grids. To do this, you just need a simple scout's compass and the plan of your house. On the plan of your house, draw the Nine Grids as illustrated in Step 1 and Step 2.

Step 2

Next, stand at the center point of your house and establish the North direction using the compass. On the plan of your house, mark out the sector in that direction as North and then identify all the other directions according to the directions of the compass.

Step 3

Using this simple Nine Grids, you will be able to identify the favorable and unfavorable sectors of your home and make less or more use of the corresponding rooms. You will also be able to ascertain the location of your Main Door and determine what kind of energies will influence your home in 2016.

ANALYSIS AND OBSERVATIONS FOR 2016

With the demarcation of the 9 Palaces, the map of Qi for properties is then adapted to the Flying Star chart of the year. In the year 2016, the Period 2 Flying Star chart is used.

With reference to the specific Stars that occupy the individual Palaces, the implications are as follow:

Direction / Location	Annual Star	Forecast
東南 Southeast	一白 1 White	The Southeast sector bears positive prospects for your career progression, bringing about travelling opportunities and the prospects of wealth accumulation. In this respect, you are likely to derive great success and satisfaction from your career. Pertaining to academic pursuits, this sector favours the study of philosophy, writing and/or any other research area. This sector will also positively influence your life in terms of your network and social circle, which in turn would promote your reputation within the community. For those who wish to tie the knot this year, the outlook is very promising under this sector. Nevertheless, it would be wise for you to watch out for emotional turbulences as depression or emotional instability is likely.
東 East	九紫 9 Purple	As the second Wealth sector of the year, the East sector promotes the growth of one's wealth, especially where long-term or permanent jobs are concerned. To benefit from such effects, use the Main Door of your home or office that is situated in this sector to enhance your chances in your business and investment. Additionally, you will also find yourself to be more active in your endeavours and activities under this sector, thus gaining you fame, recognition and status. Consequently, these credentials will lead to career advancement, new prospects and sheer joy in your life. This sector also favours those who are considering marriage or to start a family.
東北 Northeast	五黃 5 Yellow	This is the most inauspicious sector for the year, whereby it bears negative energies to bring about misfortunes and mishaps if activated. As such, it would be wise to refrain from undertaking any major renovation or groundbreaking work at this sector. It is best to leave this sector untouched and inactive or try placing metal objects made of copper, brass or iron to neutralize its negative effects.
北 North	七赤 7 Red	You are bound to feel emotionally unstable under this sector, with a lot of grievances this year. It is of primary importance for you to take care of your existing health conditions as you are likely to find yourself plagued with various other diseases, with no improvements to your current conditions. For those who sleep in bedrooms that are located in this sector, they will find themselves entangled in constant conflicts and disagreements with their significant others. Should the Main Doors of your house or office be located at this sector, keep a watchful eye on the security of your premise as there are high chances of break-ins. As for your career pursuits, you will encounter politicking and malevolent competition at your workplace, thus taking a toll on your work life.
西北 Northwest	三碧 3 Jade	It would be best for you to avoid this sector, as the negative energies of the #3 Jade Star are likely to promote constant arguments, heated disagreements and bickering this year. In the worst-case scenario, you may even be imposed with legal complications and lawsuits that would drain you physically and psychologically. To counter or weaken the effects of this sector, try placing an oil lamp or bright red items at this sector for the entire year.
西 West	四綠 4 Green	The #4 Green Star present at this sector favours academic and scholarly pursuits, in addition to other endeavours that are related to the creative, artistic or literary fields. Should you use the West Main Door or the sector itself, travelling will be promising this year and you are likely to enjoy a good relationship with your significant other.
西南 Southwest	八白 8 White	Keeping the Southwest sector of your property active will prove to be beneficial as it is the main Wealth sector of the year, thus bringing you prosperity and good fortunes. Should the Main Door of your house or office be situated in this sector, do anticipate for positive returns from your wise investments. In terms of your career, the Southwest sector also denotes the recognition of your effort, thus elevating your reputation for further career advancements. If the Main Door is not situated at this sector, you may still be able to harness the positive energies by placing Yang-natured items such as fans, clocks and televisions to activate the area.
南 South	六白 6 White	The South sector promotes great career prospects under the influence of the #6 White Star this year. You will find that all your initiatives at work will be recognized by your superiors, thus bringing you the promotion, salary increment and career progression that you have been waiting for. Should you frequently use the South entrance (Main Door) of your office, you will find improvements in your status and influence at your workplace and within your social circle. Although this Star denotes various positive attributes, it is possible for it to be activated by negative forces, thus bringing about negative prospects. Such negative changes may include sudden, unanticipated changes in your workplace and health complications related to the kidneys or legs.

Nevertheless, it is also important to take note of the 2016 Feng Shui Afflictions to determine areas of the house that are under the influence of negative energies.

Direction / Sector	Feng Shui	Forecast
South	Three Killings	Take note of the South sector of your property in 2016 as the inauspicious Three Killings Star will reside there. It is important for you to leave this sector to its peaceful time alone and not undertake any significant groundbreaking or renovation activities at this sector. If provoked, this Star will manifest some serious unfortunate consequences for both the property and its inhabitants. A series of potential repercussions can be expected in the form of robberies, theft, mishaps and accidents, loss of wealth and material possessions, as well as persistent health complications.
Northeast	Five Yellow	It would be best to give your attention to the Northeast sector of your property in 2016 as it is the danger zone for the year. As such, it is imperative for you to avoid this sector at all cost and refrain from undertaking any major refurbishment, renovation or drilling work to avoid provoking the negative energies contained therein. Should your storeroom or washroom be positioned at this sector, you may want to consider relocating it to another area of your property to avoid being plagued by a series of concealed or hidden problems and agenda for the entire year. There is, however, an exception to this rule. If this sector is an open, vast and pleasant area such as a courtyard, you can anticipate the likelihood of sudden financial gains to befall you.
Northeast 3	Year Breaker	The Northeast 3 sector is inauspicious in 2016 due to the presence of the Year Breaker. Also known as the 'Wrath of the Grand Duke', the Year Breaker, if aggravated, can lead to extremely serious repercussions. As such, it is advised that any renovation and refurbishment work in this area be called off, leaving this area untouched and inactive. In the worst-case scenario, the negative effects associated with the Year Breaker can be worse than the repercussions of the Grand Duke.

Southwest 3	Grand Duke	The Grand Duke resides in the Southwest 3 sector in 2016, bringing about negative consequences, such as misfortunes and accidents, to the property and its occupants, if provoked. It would be best to avoid activating the negative energies contained therein, by refraining from renovation and ground-breaking activities at this area. Apart from that, it is also not advisable to spend time at this sector, especially for activities that are important. The same rule applies to your workplace, whereby it is not recommended for you to face or spend time at the Southwest 3 sector of your office, as negative consequences are likely to prevail. To counter the negative effects bearing on this sector, you could put your back against the Southwest 3 sector to greatly enhance your authority at work, thus exerting better sense of control.

WHAT'S NEXT?

The beauty of the art of Feng Shui is its customization to each unique property, considering the different accompanying geographical factors that affect the manifestation of Qi. As such energy brings about different implications to the lives of the occupants, it plays a vital role in determining the outcomes of life's key areas such as career, family and health, amongst others.

Acknowledging the diversity of Feng Shui in the lives of individuals, its applications also extend to the activation of energies to bring about positive prospects to the occupants. As far as this is concerned, precision in terms of method, direction and time are vital, thus requiring a strong foundation in the study and the assistance of professional Feng Shui consultants. When the highest quality of life is the ultimate goal, Feng Shui is the ideal means to maximize individual potentials and prospects.
